What are the Domestic Abuse Accreditation Schemes?

There are two schemes. These are;

Resolution Accredited specialists. The scheme is administered by the Family Lawyers organisation Resolution. Details can be found at <http://www.resolution.org.uk>

Resolution Accredited specialists are members who have submitted themselves to a rigorous assessment to demonstrate the highest levels of knowledge, practical application of the law and best practice. Resolution specialists are proven experts in a range of areas of the law arising from family breakdown.

Advanced Members of the Law Society Family Panel. This scheme is administered by the Law Society and is considered to be the equivalent of the Resolution scheme.

Advanced Members of the Family Panel have submitted themselves to a rigorous assessment to demonstrate the highest levels of knowledge, practical application of the law and best practice. Advanced Law Society Panel Members are proven experts in a range of areas of the law arising from family breakdown.

Members of both schemes are listed here and all have Domestic Abuse as one of their specialities.

This List shows members at the office where they are normally based. A number of Firms have multiple offices and it should be assumed that members will be willing to meet with clients at all of the offices of their firm. All Legal Aid contracted firms will have arrangements to assist victims of Domestic Abuse.

Legal Aid The following Firms have contracts to undertake Family Law work with Legal Aid;

Ashfords (Tiverton) Charlesworth Nicholl & Co (Crediton), Symes Robinson & Lee (Crediton), Dunn and Baker (Cullompton), Ford Simey (Exmouth), Everys (Exmouth), Vine Orchards (Exmouth), Ford Simey (Honiton), Everys (Honiton), Ian Walker Family Law and Mediation Solicitors (Honiton) Neil Griffin & Co (Honiton).
